Profile: Overview

Marie-Claire is a commercial Chancery practitioner specialising in property, trusts and estates law. She has a reputation as a tenacious advocate and is known for her collaborative approach to working with her clients.

Experience and Expertise

Marie-Claire has a broad commercial Chancery practice with an emphasis on property litigation. She is praised by clients both for the effort and commitment she puts into all her cases and for the importance she attaches to communicating well with clients at every stage of the case.

She excels in the cut and thrust of advocacy in court, particularly witness actions where her skill at cross-examining witnesses and her mastery of the legal arguments and the trial bundles ensure that her clients feel that she has done everything possible to fight their corner. In her advisory work she relishes complex legal questions, but ensures that her advice is practical, sensible, focused on the client's commercial objectives and easy to understand.

Clients commend her user-friendly approach and the fact that she is a good team-player, always prepared to help out with all aspects of the preparation of the case when time or resources are tight.

Cases and Work of Note
