Callum joined Radcliffe Chambers in February 2023. He is responsible for the management and development of the commercial team within Chambers.

Callum works closely with the Head of Clerking and Deputy Head of Clerking, assisting with developing Chambers' brand, reinforcing client relations on-shore and off-shore, advising and assisting members with strategising their practice's development from year to year. His responsibilities in Chambers include all areas of practice management such as business development, diary management, allocation of new work, complex listing arrangements and fee negotiation.

Callum is a member of the Institute of Barristers' Clerks (IBC) and enjoyed a period of time sitting on the IBC Career Development Committee. He previously was a committee member of the London Young Lawyers Group and London Legal Networking Group too.

Callum currently sits as a committee member of the New Professional Group of R3 (Association of Business Recovery Professionals) London & Southeast.

The Legal 500 UK Bar noted that: "Callum Clark is responsive, helpful, and good to deal with." & 'I have nothing but praise for Callum Clark, he is professional, quick, helpful and a pleasure to work with. He always provides a suitable barrister for my requirements.'
