Daniel Burton is a leading chancery barrister with a broad practice spanning private client, banking and financial services, commercial disputes, pensions and related property and professional liability matters.

Daniel is ranked Band 1 for Chancery: Traditional in Chambers High Net Worth and is routinely instructed in complex and high-value matters. He is regularly involved in significant trusts and estates litigation concerning the administration and interpretation of trusts and estates, beneficial interests, trustees' powers and duties and succession.

Daniel combines substantial chancery expertise with a strong commercial background. Before joining Chambers, he worked in the Commercial Litigation department at Stewarts Law LLP and subsequently spent six months on secondment at the Office of Fair Trading.

His practice encompasses both contentious and advisory work, acting for trustees, beneficiaries, executors and personal representatives, individuals, businesses and financial institutions. He is comfortable leading, being led or acting on his own account.

TRUSTS

Daniel has extensive experience of contentious and advisory trust matters, acting for beneficiaries, trustees and professional trustees in relation to the interpretation and administration of trusts and the exercise of trustees' powers, duties and liabilities. His practice also encompasses implied trusts and equitable remedies in both domestic and commercial contexts.

Much of Daniel's work has an international dimension, and he regularly works alongside UK and overseas lawyers on complex trusts matters.

Selected judgments:

- Re FR Kerry Family 1962 Trust [2026] EWHC 869 (Ch) – Acting for the Claimants in proceedings to determine the validity and effect of various instruments and whether trust assets of circa £3.5m had been lawfully distributed to the capital beneficiaries.
- Folds Farm Trustees Ltd v Cutts [2024] EWHC 2143 (Ch) – Acting for the First Defendant in proceedings concerning costs payable by an estate and a trust fund to beneficiaries of a will trust.
- Folds Farm Trustees Ltd v Cutts [2024] EWHC 12 (Ch) | [2024] W.T.L.R. 503

– Acting for the First Defendant in "blessing" proceedings concerning trustees' powers and duties in relation to the proposed sale of a valuable farm held within a discretionary trust.
- Zedra Fiduciary Services (UK) Ltd v HM Attorney General [2023] EWCA Civ 1332 | [2024] Ch 365 – Acting as junior counsel (with Robert Pearce KC) for the appellant trustee in the Court of Appeal in proceedings concerning the National Fund. The Court of Appeal upheld the High Court's decision that the Fund should be applied cy-près to reduce the national debt rather than under the trustee's proposed scheme for general charitable purposes.
- HM Attorney General v Zedra Fiduciary Services (UK) Ltd [2023] EWHC 838 (Ch) – Acting as junior counsel (with Robert Pearce KC) for the Trustee of the National Fund concerning a successful application for Beddoe relief.
- HM Attorney General v Zedra Fiduciary Services (UK) Ltd [2022] EWHC 102 (Ch) – A £600m fund which had been created by deed of trust in 1928 in order to discharge the national debt was to be applied cy-pres to reduce the national debt rather than be applied to general charitable purposes.
- HM Attorney General v Zedra Fiduciary Services (UK) Ltd [2020] EWHC 2988 (Ch) – A deed had created a valid charitable trust with the principal purpose of benefitting the nation by accumulating a fund that would in time be applied to discharge the national debt. The original purpose of the charitable trust could not be carried out, constituting a subsequent failure of charitable purposes, and so the court had jurisdiction to make a scheme altering the charitable trust pursuant to its cy-pres jurisdiction.
- Martin v Martin [2020] EWHC 49 (Ch) | [2020] 1 P. & C.R. DG21 – Acting for the successful Claimant where the Court made an order for sale and partition under the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 in respect of five parcels of land owned by two brothers.
- Killearn v Killearn [2011] EWHC 3775 (Ch) – Acting for the 4th Defendant in successfully resisting a life tenant's proposed sale of trust property at a particular price to a particular purchaser, where Jeremy Cousins KC held that the evidence in relation to the property's value and condition did not support that approach, and it would be inconsistent with the trustees' duty to the beneficiaries to sell without a proper marketing campaign to maximise the price.

WILLS AND ESTATES

Daniel accepts instructions across the full range of contentious and non-contentious matters concerning wills, estates and succession. He acts for beneficiaries, personal representatives and other interested parties in disputes concerning the interpretation and effect of wills, estate administration, and the duties and liabilities of executors and administrators.

He has particular expertise in contentious probate disputes, including questions of testamentary capacity, undue influence and want of knowledge and approval, as well as non-contentious probate matters involving the appointment and replacement of personal representatives and revocation of grants. His practice also encompasses intestacy, proprietary estoppel and claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975.

Much of Daniel's work has an international dimension, and he regularly works alongside UK and overseas lawyers on matters involving assets, estates and parties across multiple jurisdictions.

- Haastrup v Haastrup [2016] EWHC 3311 (Ch) – Acting for the claimants in the long-running Haastrup estate litigation, where the Court considered the necessary locus standi required to bring an action against an executor de son tort who had received monies belonging to a company owned by the deceased.

COMMERCIAL DISPUTES

Daniel has broad experience of commercial disputes, advising and representing clients from the pre-action stage through to trial. - Zoya Ltd v Ahmed [2017] 2 W.L.R. 773 | [2016] EWHC 1981 (Ch) – Acting for the successful defendant in the trial of a preliminary issue relating to the authority to issue proceedings in a Liberian company's name, where William Trower KC held that the individual purporting to have authority on behalf of the claimant was neither a shareholder or a director and struck out the claim as an abuse of process.
- Zoya Ltd v Ahmed [2016] 4 W.L.R. 174 | [2016] EWHC 2249 (Ch) – Acting in a related third-party costs application, where William Trower KC found that, although solicitors had acted without authority in litigation brought by a company, they were not liable to the defendant for breach of warranty of authority, as he had not relied on the warranty, having argued from the outset that they lacked authority.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL SERVICES

Daniel accepts instructions in relation to financial services and banking matters, including disputes over loan facilities and the mis-selling of financial products. He is also well versed in consumer credit issues involving the unfairness provisions in section 140A-C of the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and unfair terms, in which he has acted both for and against banks. He has a particular specialism and experience in shared appreciation mortgages (known as 'SAMs').

In 2012, Daniel spent six months on secondment at the Office of Fair Trading providing advisory and drafting services in respect of regulation and licencing of consumer credit businesses, Government ratification of mortgage products and anti-money laundering provisions. Before joining Chambers, Daniel spent a year in the Commercial Litigation department at Stewarts Law LLP, participating in particular in large-scale banking and finance litigation including the mis-selling of interest rate swaps and derivatives.

Selected judgments:

- Various SAM Borrowers v BOS (Shared Appreciation Mortgages) No.1 Plc [2022] EWHC 2594 (Ch) | [2022] Costs L.R. 1715 – In a claim involving 161 claimants, where the Court gave directions for the trial of 15 lead claims, the value of the lead claims was not a helpful guide to the proportionality of the defendants' costs budget. The purpose of trying the lead claims was to facilitate the resolution of all 161 claims, and the total value of those claims had to be taken into account when considering the proportionality of the defendants' costs.

Daniel acts for scheme trustees, employers, individual members, insurers, scheme administrators and advisers and regulatory bodies in relation to occupational and personal pension schemes.
