Justin Allen has almost 30 years of experience as a barristers' clerk and has been at Radcliffe Chambers since it was founded in 2006. He assists Senior Clerk John Clark with the management of members' diaries, fee negotiation and billing, and the development of members' practices, with a particular focus on our real estate team.

Justin is our public direct access clerk and acts as first point of contact for members of the public wishing to instruct our barristers without also instructing a solicitor. He can advise on the suitability and availability of barristers for a particular case, and give an estimate of the likely costs involved. For more information, visit Public access

The Legal 500 UK Bar 2019 noted that Justin comes "highly recommended by solicitors for 'efficiency and responsiveness'".
