"Kate is at the top of her game. She's a voice of calm assurance when things get complex and frenetic."

Kate enjoys an excellent reputation as a highly experienced commercial and traditional Chancery litigator specialising in private client, property and charity law.

Kate's great strength is her ability to combine intellectual rigour and commercial acuity with an unwavering dedication to her clients' best interests. Kate has garnered extensive praise in the directories for her down-to-earth approach, her empathy with clients and her ability to explain complex and technical issues in straightforward language.

She has appeared in the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeal and has a wealth of trial experience in the High Court. She also regularly appears in the first tier and upper tribunals in tax, charity and property appeals and in the Court of Protection. As a junior she was on the Attorney General's A, B and C Panels for many years, amassing extensive experience of government litigation, particularly for HMRC and the GLD.

Kate is primarily a litigator, but also has a strong advisory practice in her core areas of expertise. She specialises in all aspects of private client, trusts, probate, taxation, charity and property law. Kate's expertise in probate and estate administration law extends to a number of offshore jurisdictions and she regularly advises charities on governance issues and property disposals.

TRUSTS

Kate has extensive advisory and litigation experience in this core practice area. She often acts for beneficiaries in breach of trust claims and advises lay, professional and institutional trustees on the nature, extent and exercise of trustees' powers, duties and fiduciary obligations.

Kate is regularly instructed to draft trust deeds and related trust documentation and often advises trustees and beneficiaries on the taxation of trusts. Kate frequently appears in the Chancery Division acting both for and against trustees in a variety of CPR Part 64 claims.

Significant work in this area includes:

- Densham v Charity Commission for England and Wales [2018] UKUT402 (TCC) – Appearing for the Commission in an appeal concerning the fundamental nature of allotment charities and trusts for the labouring poor
- Holden-Hindley v Holden-Hindley [2014] W.T.L.R. 275 – Acting in a case considering the scope of the exercise of trustees’ powers of appointment, whether resettlement of trust assets was for beneficiary’s benefit and Pilkington type resettlements
- Coombes v HMRC [2007] EWHC 3160 (Ch) – Appearing in a case considering whether capital gain could be attributed to the appellant as the settlor of the settlement
- Commissioners of Inland Revenue v Mohamed Akram Hashmi [2002] EWCA Civ 981, [2002] 2 BCLC 489, [2002] WTLR 19 – Representing the Commissioners in a case concerning a transaction at an undervalue in the context of the Insolvency Act 1986.

REAL ESTATE AND PLANNING

Kate’s wealth of expertise in this core practice area extends to all aspects of real property and landlord and tenant law.

She deals regularly with the following: easements and restrictive covenants; propriety estoppel; beneficial interests in the home; mortgages and securities; registered and unregistered conveyancing; Land Registry indemnities and other aspects of Land Registry practice; adverse possession and boundary disputes; highways and planning; compulsory purchase and compensation; overage and development; Stamp Duty Land Tax; business and residential tenancies; agricultural holdings and farm business tenancies; leasehold enfranchisement; tenants’ rights of first refusal.

Kate regularly advises and acts for both borrowers and lenders in a wide range of mortgage-related work including forged and fraudulent mortgages, misrepresentation and undue influence, subrogation, marshalling, equitable mortgages and charges, enforcement, breach of warranty of authority, breach of fiduciary duty, and land registration issues including indemnities.

Kate has significant experience of local government and planning work, having been a member of the Attorney General’s B and C Panels from 1999 to 2008 when she was regularly instructed by the Highways Agency and the Department for Transport on planning and compulsory purchase matters. She has also represented the Highways Agency in three major public road inquiries.

Significant work in this area includes:

- Christodoulides v Marcou [2017] EWHC 2691 (ChD) Morgan J; [2017] EWHC 2632 (Ch) – Acting for the successful respondent in relation to two applications for permission to appeal in a case concerning fraudulent calumny, inter vivos transfer of land and presumed undue influence
- Marcou v Christodoulides (2017) – Representing the claimant in a ten-day trial concerning fraudulent calumny, inter vivos transfer of land and presumed undue influence

- Elizabeth Court (Bournemouth) Ltd-v-HMRC(2007) – Appearing in a case concerning liability to pay Stamp Duty Land Tax where a right of collective enfranchisement to purchase freehold was exercised.

WILLS AND ESTATES

Kate has built up a wealth of advisory and litigation experience in this practice area.

Her extensive probate practice regularly includes the following: 1975 Act litigation; will validity issues: testamentary capacity, want of knowledge and approval, undue influence, execution and attestation, forgery; lost wills; probate receiverships; domicile and conflicts of laws issues; will construction problems; tax and estate planning; will drafting and deeds of variation; administration of estates; intestate succession and bona vacantia matters; devastavit claims against personal representatives; advising and representing charitable residuary legatees.

Significant work in this area includes:

- Hall v HMRC [2023] UKFTT 32 (TC) (on the nature of an interest in possession for IHT purposes, and when a right of occupation arises in the administration of an estate where there is insufficient liquidity in the estate to pay the IHT without resorting to the property)
- Christodoulides v Marcou [2017] EWHC 2691 (ChD) Morgan J; [2017] EWHC 2632 (Ch) – Acting for the successful respondent in relation to two applications for permission to appeal in a case concerning fraudulent calumny, inter vivos transfer of land and presumed undue influence
- Marcou v Christodoulides (2017) – Representing the claimant in a ten-day trial concerning fraudulent calumny, inter vivos transfer of land and presumed undue influence
- Siaw v Lock & Ors [2011] EWHC 2926 (Ch) – Acting in an administration of events case concerning consent orders, proprietary estoppel and receivers' powers and duties
- The Solicitor for the Affairs of Her Majesty's Treasury v Doveton [2008] EWHC 2812, [2009] BPIR 352 – Acting in a case concerning will forgery
- IRC v Arkwright [2004] WTLR 855, [2005] 1 WLR 1411 – Appearing in a case determining that a special commissioner had jurisdiction to hear an appeal in relation to an inheritance tax dispute on an issue of law but had no jurisdiction to determine the value of the interest in a property for the purposes of inheritance tax, as it was an issue for the Lands Tribunal.

TAX

Kate regularly advises clients on tax matters arising in the context of her property, trust and probate work (typically Inheritance Tax, Capital Gains Tax and Stamp Duty Land Tax).

As a member of the Attorney General's A, B and C Panels before taking silk Kate was regularly instructed by HMRC in Tax Tribunal litigation which has enabled her to develop a wide-ranging knowledge of revenue law, practice and procedure generally.

Significant cases include:

- Hall v HMRC [2023] UKFTT 32 (TC) (on the nature of an interest in possession for IHT purposes, and when a right of occupation arises in the administration of an estate where there is insufficient liquidity in the estate to pay the IHT without resorting to the property)
- HMRC-v-Netbusters (UK) Ltd [2022] UKUT 175 (TCC) and Netbusters (UK) Ltd v HMRC [2020] UKFTT 438 (TC). (VAT: whether the supplies of pitch hire and football and netball league management services were grants of interests in or rights over land or licences to occupy land for the purposes of Sched 9, Group 1, VATA 1994; and whether leasing or letting for the purposes of Article 135 of the Principal VAT Directive)
- LCP Management Ltd v HMRC [2019] FTT (Tax) TC/2017/09251, (VAT and property: whether the option to tax had been disapplied by Schedule 10 of VATA 1994 in respect of a grant of a lease of air space by a company in the Appellant's VAT group because no existing building, or part of a building, was converted for use as a dwelling)

- Reid v Revenue and Customs Commissioners [2018] UKFTT 236 (TC) – Appearing in an appeal concerning film industry partnerships and tax avoidance, HMRC enquiry processes, closure notices, carry-back reliefs
- Elizabeth Court (Bournemouth) Ltd v HMRC (2007) – Appearing in a case concerning liability to pay Stamp Duty Land Tax where a right of collective enfranchisement to purchase freehold was exercised
- Coombes v HMRC [2007] EWHC 3160 (Ch) – Appearing in a case considering whether capital gain could be attributed to the appellant as the settlor of the settlement
- Significant Ltd v Farrel (HMIT) [2006] STC 1626 – Acting in an appeal concerning the procedure and time limits for transmitting case stated to High Court and whether High Court had jurisdiction to extend time limit.

CHARITIES

Kate regularly advises charities, clubs and unincorporated associations on a wide variety of matters including charity governance, charitable status, charity trading, charity land, club rules, the validity of charitable bequests and the dissolution of unincorporated associations by the court.

Her recent work includes representing the successful respondent in Densham v The Charity Commission for England and Wales [2018] UKUT 0402 (TCC), an appeal brought by local allotment holder Pauline Densham, who sought to argue that the wording of two mid-19th century enclosure awards allotting land in Hughenden, Bucks “on trust for the labouring poor” did not create a charitable trust of allotment land. She also acted for the Charity Commission in the First Tier Tribunal.

COURT OF PROTECTION

Kate has a wealth of experience in the Court of Protection and regularly appears in property and affairs related matters including statutory will and deputyship applications. She is also developing increasing experience in the personal welfare side of the Court of Protection's work including deprivation of liberty applications.

BUSINESS DISPUTES

Kate has considerable experience of litigating commercial disputes. Typically, Kate's commercial work will involve civil fraud, asset recovery and freezing injunctions, loan and finance agreements, guarantees and indemnities, agency and partnerships. Kate has also drafted innumerable contracts, agreements and related documentation for a broad spectrum of business and commercial clients.

She acted as junior counsel in the Supreme Court, Court of Appeal and trial stages of the leading case on the doctrine of marshalling, an important equitable remedy, SOCA v Szepietowski [2013] UKSC 65; [2011] EWCA Civ 856; [2010] EWHC 2570; [2009] EWHC 1560; [2009] EWHC 344; [2009] EWHC 655.

Kate deals regularly with a wide variety of partnership issues in the context of her property and administration of estates related work. Her experience includes advising the surviving partners in a farming partnership that dissolved on death and acting for professional trustees who hold a share in a property development partnership and intend to bring proceedings for an account.

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY

Kate regularly advises professional and lay clients on professional negligence issues arising in her main fields of expertise; typically in property, trust and probate matters.

Recent examples have included a will draftsman's failure to follow the “golden rules”, an executor’s distribution of an estate in ignorance of the applicability of foreign law, a conveyancer’s failure to carry out proper identity checks on a fraudster, and a surveyor’s incomplete preparation of auction sales particulars.

MEDIATION

Kate regularly represents clients at mediations, most often in property, trust and probate related matters. Praised in the directories as a tough negotiator as well as a pragmatist, Kate has scored some notable recent successes for clients at mediation.

COMMUNITY AND PRO BONO

Kate is very committed to increasing diversity at the chancery bar and is the course director and committee chair of the Radcliffe Chambers Student Barrister Experience Programme, which is hosted in collaboration with Big Voice London.
